

Online survey seeks public input regarding the preservation of historic places in Delaware

(DOVER, Del.—June 7, 2017)—In recent months, the Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs has been working with partners from across the state on the development of Delaware's next statewide historic preservation plan. As part of the process, the division has been gathering public input regarding issues and priorities facing historic places in the state.

Members of the public are urged to provide input for the preservation plan by taking the survey that can be accessed at the following web address:
<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/DelawareHistoricPreservationPlanning2017>.

The survey contains nine questions requiring approximately 15 minutes to complete. The deadline for completing the survey is Friday, June 30, 2017. For additional information, contact the Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs' State Historic Preservation Office at 302-736-7400.
